FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

Dear Students,

As we step into the new year and celebrate the feast of St. Kuriakose Elias Chavara on 03 January, I invite you to reflect on the extraordinary life of this remarkable saint – our founder, who believed that “Days on which you have not rendered any good to others will not be reckoned in the book of your life.

St. Chavara lived only 66 years (1805–1871), yet he accomplished what many cannot achieve across centuries. What was his secret? He was a man of dreams – not idle fantasies, but powerful visions that transformed society. His dreams became reality because they were rooted in steadfast faith in God and staunch commitment to serve others.

St. Chavara dreamt of a society free from ignorance, where education would be the light dispelling spiritual blindness. He championed education for all – especially for women and the marginalized. He believed that educated mothers were crucial for family and societal upliftment. Today, as you sit in your classrooms, remember that you are living his dream.

He dreamt of a dignified society built on equality and freedom, where no one faced discrimination. He had space in his heart for everyone – rich and poor, privileged and downtrodden, even those who opposed him. This inclusive vision challenges us today: Do we make space in our hearts for everyone?

What made St. Chavara different was his ability to unite contemplation with action. He didn't just dream; he founded the CMI congregation, established schools, served the poor, and worked tirelessly for social reform. No obstacle could stop him because he trusted in God's providence and took the road less travelled.

St. Chavara understood deeply “the mystery of man in relation to God: the greatness of God the creator and the ungratefulness of man, the creature.” He witnessed how God's immense love and blessings are often met with human indifference. Yet, instead of being discouraged, he chose to respond to God's greatness with a life of profound gratitude – through service, education, and unwavering dedication to uplifting humanity.

As students, you too are dreamers. But let your dreams be like St. Chavara's – dreams that serve others, dreams that bring light to dark places, dreams that build bridges instead of walls. Let us not be among the ungrateful who squander God's gifts, but rather use our talents, education, and opportunities to make this world better.

This January, let us resolve that no day shall pass without doing some good to others. Transform your dreams into action through your studies, your kindness, your service to those around you.

DREAM BIG, WORK HARD, SERVE HUMBLYYY!!!

WARM GREETINGS AND BEST WISHES FOR A PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR!

EDITORIAL

Wisdom and purity should be spiritual food, like food for natural growth. -St Kuriakose Elias Chavara

St. Kuriakose Elias Chavara was a visionary saint whose life was guided by dreams of faith, education, and service to society. He believed that dreams were not merely personal wishes but God-given inspirations meant to uplift humanity, especially the poor and the young.

According to him, education was the foundation of social reform and spiritual growth, as it helped people develop moral values, self-respect, and a sense of responsibility. At a time when education was limited to a privileged few, he courageously introduced the idea of starting schools attached to churches so that children from poor and backward communities could also receive education. These educational initiatives reflected his deep human values, as he strongly believed that every child deserved equal opportunities to grow and succeed in life.

Beyond education, St. Chavara dreamed of a society rooted in faith, unity, and compassion. He encouraged family prayer, devotion, and disciplined living, believing that strong families would lead to a strong society. His life was marked by simplicity, sacrifice, and tireless service, as he worked not for personal recognition but for the good of others. Through his selfless service, kindness, and genuine concern for humanity, St. Kuriakose Elias Chavara became a guiding light for generations, and his life continues to inspire people to live with faith, compassion, and commitment to the common good.

St. Chavara's life and vision reminds us that the noblest dreams are those that illuminate the path for others to follow. Let us dare to dream like St. Chavara did—not for ourselves alone, but for a wider world too.

ALUMNI MEMOIRS

A Proud Alumna of Chavara Vidya Bhavan

Being an alumna of Chavara Vidya Bhavan is something I carry with great pride and affection. When I think about my school days, what comes to mind are not just classrooms and examinations, but the people, small moments, and lessons that stayed with me long after I left the campus.

CVB is the place that shaped who I am today. The teachers here were more than instructors; they were guides who recognised our strengths even before we did. Their encouragement, patience, and constant belief in us made every challenge feel achievable. Whether it was a gentle correction or a motivating word, each interaction helped build our confidence and character.

What I appreciate most about Chavara Vidya Bhavan is the way it instilled values without ever forcing them upon us. Discipline, respect, kindness, and responsibility became part of our everyday lives—through morning assemblies, group activities, friendships, and even lessons learned from our mistakes. These values continue to guide me in ways I did not fully understand at the time.

I am deeply thankful for everything that Chavara Vidya Bhavan has given me. I hope the students who walk through its gates today cherish these moments just as much, if not more, and carry forward the values of the school in their own journeys.

With warm regards,

A Heartfelt Tribute to Chavara Vidya Bhavan

As parents, there is no greater joy than seeing our child grow, learn, and thrive in a nurturing environment. Chavara Vidya Bhavan has been that haven for our children — a place where curiosity is sparked, talents are nurtured, and strong values are instilled. Today, we express our deepest gratitude to the dedicated educators, staff, and the entire school community for playing an invaluable role in shaping our children's future.

From the moment they first stepped into the school premises, we knew we had made the right choice. The warm smiles of the teachers, the well-structured curriculum, and the emphasis on holistic development created an atmosphere where our children felt safe, valued, and motivated. The school's commitment to academic excellence is evident in the way lessons are delivered — making complex concepts simple, meaningful, and engaging.

School is the garden of young flowers. The fragrance they will spread in the future is shaped here. For flowers to bloom, the gardener must be skilled — and the teachers of this school have truly been the strength of this institution. Every child in their classroom is cared for with dedication, ensuring that each one blossoms in their own unique way.

What truly sets Chavara Vidya Bhavan apart is its dedication to nurturing the individual potential of every child. Our daughter, who once struggled with public speaking, now confidently participates in debates and presentations, thanks to the constant encouragement and guidance of her teachers. The school's wide range of co-curricular activities, sports, and arts programs has helped our children discover hidden talents and build self-confidence.

The values of empathy, respect, and kindness are deeply woven into the fabric of the school's ethos. Our children have learned the importance of teamwork, resilience, and integrity — qualities that will guide them throughout their lives. The school's emphasis on community service and social responsibility has instilled in them a sense of compassion and civic duty, helping them grow into responsible and aware citizens.

We are equally grateful for the transparency and effective communication the school maintains with parents. Regular updates, parent-teacher interactions, and constructive feedback sessions ensure that we remain actively involved in our children's learning journey.

In conclusion, we extend our heartfelt thanks to the entire Chavara Vidya Bhavan family for their unwavering dedication and support. Your efforts have not only strengthened our children's academic foundation but have also shaped their character and personality. We are proud to be part of this beautiful journey and look forward to seeing our children continue to flourish under your guidance.

THANK YOU, CHAVARA VIDYA BHAVAN, FOR BEING A BEACON OF 5 LEARNING AND GROWTH FOR OUR CHILDREN.

A Journey of 18 Years in Teaching

With 18 years of dedicated service in the field of education, my teaching journey has been both enriching and inspiring. This school has been more than just a workplace — it has been my second home, filled with care, learning, and countless memorable moments.

Mr. Vinoth Kumar
Teacher Emeritus

Each day in the classroom has brought new opportunities to learn and grow alongside my students. Watching them evolve into confident and responsible individuals has been the most rewarding part of my profession.

This beautiful journey has shaped me into the educator and person I am today.

The values, experiences, and lessons gathered along the way continue to guide me in my present role as an academic leader.

I am deeply grateful to the management, principals, colleagues, students, and parents for their constant support, encouragement, and trust throughout these wonderful years. This journey will always remain close to my heart.

FACULTY DEVELOPMENT SEMINAR
A SESSION OF INSIGHT AND INSPIRATION

On 19 December, Rev. Fr. Dany Kokkadan organised a thought-provoking seminar for the teaching faculty, led by Rev. Fr. Martin Mallathu CMI, General Councilor for Education and Media, CMI Congregation. The session proved to be an eye-opening experience for all the teachers.

Fr. Martin highlighted the transformative impact of the 19th century, especially the wave of inventions and industrial progress that reshaped human life. He emphasised that true change in society is possible only through dedication, as committed individuals drive meaningful progress.

He further stressed that education is the key that removes the blindness of ignorance and opens the vision of knowledge. He reiterated the CMI Educational Vision Statement, which upholds education as the integral formation of the human person.

Encouraging simple yet powerful habits, Fr. Martin urged teachers to intentionally do at least one good deed each day and to nurture the enriching habit of reading, as books greatly influence and shape one's life.

The session left the teachers motivated, enriched, and inspired to carry the CMI educational mission forward with renewed dedication.

A CELEBRATION OF JOY AND HOPE CHRISTMAS AT CHAVARA VIDYA BHAVAN

Chavara Vidya Bhavan celebrated Christmas with joy and reverence on 08 December 2025. The occasion was graced by Rev. Fr. Johnson Valiyakulathil, Director, Vidyavanam Ashram, Bengaluru, as the Chief Guest. Rev. Fr. Dr. Saju Chackalackal, our Correspondent and Provincial of the Preshitha Province, Coimbatore, graciously presided over the celebration. Rev. Fr. Dany Kokkadan, Principal, and Rev. Fr. Sijo Chowalur, Bursar, enriched the programme with their esteemed presence and guidance. The celebration commenced with a graceful inaugural dance, setting a festive tone. This was followed by melodious Christmas carols rendered by the school choir, Chavara 7th Note, filling the campus with harmony and cheer. The joyful arrival of Santa Claus delighted the young students and added colour to the occasion.

The cake-cutting ceremony by the dignitaries, accompanied by little angels and Santa Claus, was a memorable highlight. A meaningful nativity play was then presented, beautifully conveying the true message of Christmas. The celebration was further enriched by inspiring Christmas messages delivered by the Chief Guest and the Provincial, emphasising the values of love, peace, and sharing. The programme concluded on a joyful note, leaving the students and staff with cherished memories and the spirit of Christmas alive in their hearts.

NEWS & EVENTS

WRAPPED IN WARMTH - STAFF CHRISTMAS GATHERING

The staff of Chavara Vidya Bhavan gathered for a meaningful Christmas celebration on 24 December 2025, between 9.00 a.m. and 11.00 a.m. The programme began in a warm and joyous atmosphere, reflecting the true spirit of Christmas. Staff members came together in a spirit of unity, fellowship, and gratitude. The celebration was marked by moments of sharing, laughter, and goodwill. A special highlight of the event was the sharing of Christmas gifts among the Christmas friends.

This gesture strengthened bonds and added a personal touch to the celebration. The programme served as a reminder of the values of love, generosity, and togetherness.

CHRISTMAS CHEER AMONG OUR STUDENTS

Adding to the festive cheer, students celebrated Christmas through a joyful gift exchange held on the last working day before the holidays. The students arrived with beautifully wrapped gifts and enthusiastically exchanged them with one another. The activity created an atmosphere of excitement and happiness, encouraging sharing, friendship, and the joy of giving. This simple yet meaningful celebration helped students experience the true essence of Christmas in a memorable way.

St. Chavara's Guiding Light

In the silence of dawn, a spark gently grew,
A vision of learning, bright, pure, and true.
St. Chavara walked with a lantern in hand,
Sharing its glow across village and land.
He dreamed of classrooms open and fair,
Where hope could rise like sunlight in air.
Books became bridges, chalk became flight,
He turned simple rooms into beacons of light.
For every child, he opened a door,
Saying "Knowledge is wealth, seek to explore."
He planted values deep in the soul,
Teaching that wisdom is more than a goal.
Today his flame still shines in our way,
Guiding our footsteps, day after day.
A reminder that learning can lift us to heights,
For St. Chavara's vision lives on in his light.

THE DREAMS THAT SHAPE MY FUTURE

Bhuviksha K
G 9-A

Dream like a magician,
Listen like a musician.
Walk with pride,
Let no fears hide.
Break your fears,
To overcome tears.
Go with the flow,
Just like lives go.
Bright like a sun,
Darkness will run.
When no one is here,
God comes near.
Don't be blind,
By confusing your mind.
Flow like a river,
Let your heart never shiver.
Trust your process,
It's not for success.
When life becomes night,
Friends become light.

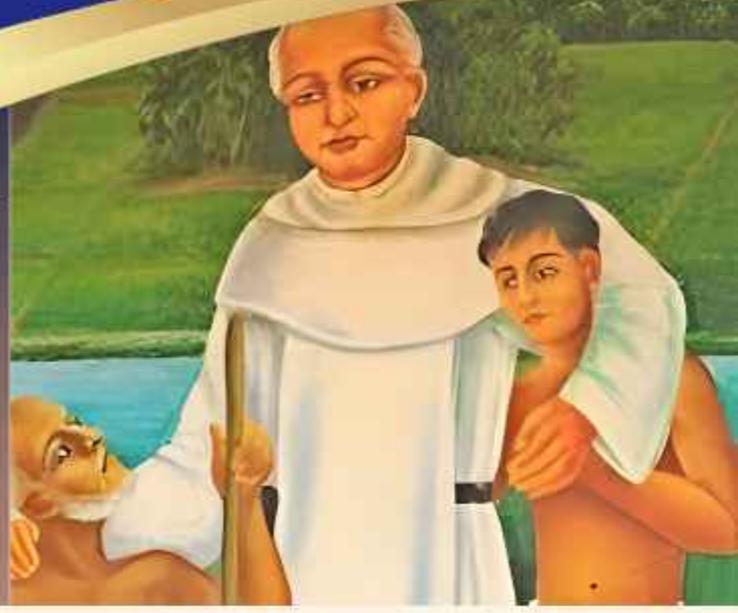

WHEN DREAMS GIVE US WINGS

When dreams give us wings to fly,
We touch the morning sky.
With hopes that never die,
We reach for the stars on high.
Where dreams give us wings to soar,
We leave our fears on the floor.
With hearts that beat with fire,
We chase our passions, our desire.

READ A BOOK A Month Challenge

Unlock Your Potential

You Can Win by Shiv Khera is amongst the most powerful books on motivation. The book is designed as a step-by-step guide that helps us to understand the importance of confidence, character, and setting up goals. Shiv Khera's famous line, "Winners don't do different things; they do things differently," captures the spirit of the book and highlights how ordinary people can achieve extraordinary results by changing their mind set and approach.

The strength of You Can Win essentially is simplicity. The author has used very simple language, which makes the book a delight to read, even for the young mind. Shiv Khera shares real-life stories, inspirational examples, and short anecdotes, which bring out each lesson distinctively.

One of the major themes in this book is the power of attitude. Shiv Khera explains that our attitude determines the way we look at the world and how we respond to challenges. The author summarized that success begins with a positive mind, and people who have confidence and optimism are more likely to take action and overcome obstacles. Another important message emphasized in this book is that one needs to develop character. The author also said that skills may get someone the job, but character keeps him or her there.

Another important feature of the book is that it focuses on goal setting. He talks about time management and prioritization of tasks. The practical techniques shared in this book would help the readers plan their daily routine in a more productive and meaningful way.

The book also focuses on the shared obstacles like fear, failure, criticism, and lack of motivation. Shiv Khera reassures readers that failure is not the opposite of success but a part of it. He insists they learn from mistakes rather than give up. Overall, You Can Win is a powerful motivational and easy-to-read book that can help one take charge of their life. It motivates readers to think positively, work hard, stay disciplined, and believe in their potential.

"THE FUTURE BELONGS TO THOSE WHO BELIEVE IN THE BEAUTY OF THEIR DREAMS" -Eleanor Roosevelt

The youth of India are known for their energy, creativity, resilience and their dreams are the driving force behind a brighter future. Youth are often described as the architects of tomorrow. Their dreams are not merely abstract ideas but the driving force behind progress and positive societal changes. However, turning these dreams into success requires hardwork, dedication and perseverance. Dreams give direction and motivation to young minds. With Technology, they are connected globally, sharing ideas and learning from others. The youth of India have the potential to shape the future of the nation. With the right support and opportunities, we can unlock their full potential and create a brighter tomorrow for all. Dreams are what drive us to achieve greatness. They're developing leadership skills, taking on challenges, and making a difference. Dreams are often a mix of passion and purpose. The youth of today are the leaders of tomorrow and their dreams and aspirations are the driving force behind a better future, they are driving innovation, entrepreneurship, creating new opportunities and jobs. Their dreams are the foundation upon which a brighter tomorrow is built, and it's incredible to see how they're shaping the nation's future.

SAINT CHAVARA: GUIDING LIGHT FOR YOUNG MINDS.

Asmitha K R

G 10-B

Saint Kuriakose Elias Chavara was a great spiritual leader, reformer, and visionary who continues to inspire young minds even today. Born in 1805 in Kerala, he believed that education, discipline, and strong moral values were the true foundations of a meaningful life. His life stands as a shining example of how one person's dedication can uplift an entire society.

One of Saint Chavara's greatest contributions was his emphasis on education. He firmly believed that knowledge should not be limited to a privileged few. At a time when education was inaccessible to many, he encouraged schools to be started alongside churches so that every child could learn. His famous idea, "A school for every church," reflects his deep concern for the intellectual growth of the youth. For young minds today, this teaches the importance of learning, curiosity, and equal opportunities.

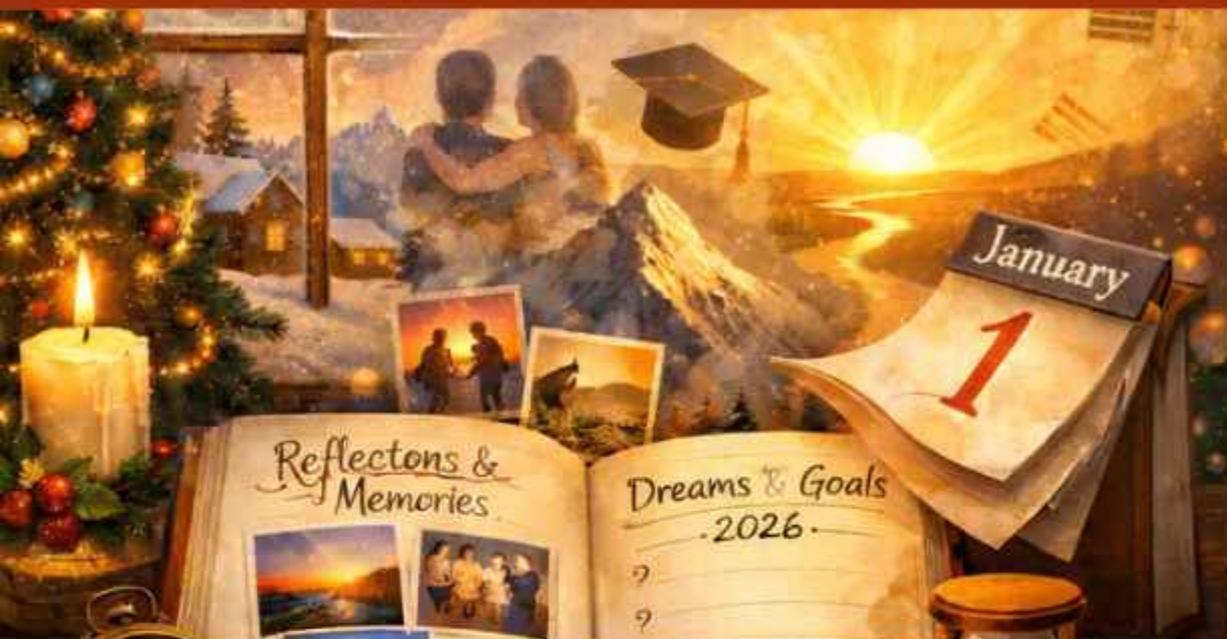

Saint Chavara also focused on character building. He believed that education without values was incomplete. Through his teachings, he encouraged young people to be honest, disciplined, compassionate, and responsible. In a world filled with distractions and pressures, his message reminds students to stay rooted in ethics and make choices that shape a better future.

He stood firm in his beliefs, even during difficult times, and worked tirelessly for social reform and spiritual renewal. This inspires young minds to be confident, stand up for what is right, and never lose hope when faced with challenges. Saint Chavara's life teaches us that true success lies not only in personal achievements but also in serving others.

Even today, Saint Chavara's vision continues to guide students to dream big, live with purpose, and contribute positively to society.

THE MAGIC OF DECEMBER

Swarna JS
G 10-C

December always brings with it a magical mix of celebrations, reflections, and surprises. Being the last month of the year, December always makes us pause and look back at everything that has happened over the past twelve months — our achievements, challenges, lessons learned, and memorable moments. It is a time of endings and new beginnings, a month when we feel grateful for what we have and hopeful for the future.

December may be the last month of the year, but it carries many surprising and exciting facts that most people never notice. Originally, December was the tenth month in the old Roman calendar. The word “December” comes from the Latin word “Decem,” which means ten. In those ancient times, it even had only 29 days until Julius Caesar changed the calendar. December is known for the shortest days and longest nights, and around the 21st or 22nd we experience the Winter Solstice, the day with the least sunlight. This month is world-famous for Christmas, one of the biggest celebrations across the globe, and it also becomes the busiest shopping time as people buy gifts, decorations, and sweets. Nature also shows changes—birds migrate to warmer places, animals grow thicker fur, and some go into hibernation. December is full of hidden surprises too: the popular song “Jingle Bells” was not written for Christmas but for Thanksgiving, and the Gemini meteor shower lights up the sky with beautiful shooting stars, making December a great month for stargazing. Another amazing fact is that time actually moves a little faster in December because the Earth is closer to the Sun and moves quicker in its orbit.

As 2025 comes to an end, it leaves us with gratitude and excitement for the future. We step into the new year with lessons learned, hearts full of hope, and dreams ready to grow. 2025 may be ending, but its laughter, lessons, and memories will stay with us forever — reminding us that every day is a gift, every moment is precious, and every experience is worth cherishing. Let's step into 2026 with hope, courage, and hearts ready to embrace new opportunities.

ST. CHAVARA'S VISION THAT INSPIRES TODAY'S STUDENTS

Parvathy R Nair
G 11-A

In an age marked by rapid technological advancement, intense competition, and constant change, students often search for direction, purpose, and values that can guide them toward meaningful success. The vision of St. Kuriakose Elias Chavara, a great reformer, educator, and spiritual leader of India, continues to shine as a powerful source of inspiration for today's students. St. Chavara strongly believed that education was the key to personal and social transformation.

At a time when learning was limited to a privileged few, he insisted that education should reach every child, especially experiencing economic hardships and marginalized. His famous instruction to start a school alongside every church reflects his deep conviction that knowledge empowers individuals and uplifts society.

For today's students, this vision reminds us that education is not merely a means to secure a job, but a powerful instrument to transform ourselves and the world around us. Learning becomes meaningful when it is used to serve others and contribute positively to society.

Unlike modern systems that often focus only on academic success, St. Chavara emphasized holistic education. He advocated for the integration of moral values, spiritual growth, discipline, and social responsibility along with intellectual development.

In the present world, where stress, anxiety, and moral confusion are common among students, his vision encourages balance. It inspires young minds to cultivate integrity, compassion, self-discipline, and inner strength qualities that are essential for lifelong success and happiness.

As students navigate the challenges of the modern world, the values championed by St. Chavara continue to light the path toward meaningful and responsible living.

In embracing his vision, today's students do not merely prepare for a career, they prepare for life..
